Twenty female patients with cancer of the mammary gland were examined for the therapeutic effectiveness of a combination of hypnosis and massage of the chest in combination with a hypoprotein diet. For this purpose the level of pain and other subjective complaints, the water content of the cells, the leucocyte count, neutrophile granulocyte index, and the total protein content in the blood plasma were determined. As the results of the therapy a subjective improvement was achieved and a decrease in the body weight was observed. It was also ascertained that with a pain reduction the subjective complaint of weakness was less frequently reported.Q: Laravel validation only if not empty I have this method public function validateFields() { $validator = Validator::make($this->data, ['name' =>'required', 'price' =>'required|max:10', 'product_category_id' =>'required|exists:products,id', 'sort_order' =>'required 2d92ce491b
