LinkTAB is the ultimate bookmark linker. LinkTAB creates custom bookmarks for your favorite web sites. It automatically creates a folder of your own called LINKTAB to store them all. Your bookmarks can be viewable as a simple folder, or converted to web site bookmark with clickable links. You can choose to permanently bookmark links with a single click or just create a link to a page. All links are cached in your link tag so they are always there when you need them. Now go, live and learn! A: This is a tag generator, not bookmark manager. 1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an information processing apparatus and a storage medium. 2. Description of the Related Art There has been proposed a remote copying system which is used to keep a copy of a source image on a remote server while assuring security and reliability. For example, there is a remote copying system which transfers source image data stored in a memory to a remote server. In such a remote copying system, source image data is stored in the memory of the information processing apparatus such as the personal computer (PC). On the other hand, the remote copying system receives transfer request of the source image data to the remote server, and stores the source image data to a storage region of the remote server. However, the source image data stored in the information processing apparatus is stored in the memory without modification and management. Therefore, in the remote copying system, an increase in the number of the source image data stored in the memory causes a shortage of the storage region of the remote server, and causes a problem in that the remote copying system is not able to receive the transfer request of the source image data.
